The house voted 75 to 25 and the senate, 30 to 8, to ratify the amendment. ## WILD ORGY OF BUYING CAUSE OF HIGH PRICES

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Denver, Colo., Jan. 6.—At a mass meeting called to protest against the high cost of living here tonight, Harry B. Tedrow, United States district attorney, said increased prices to "a wild orgy of buying."
"Merchants have turned to robbers," he said, "and the people are encouraging them by spending their money recklessly."
The Rev. C. S. Lackland declared it is time to put the flag above the common people instead of allowing it to protect the profiteers. Sallie Hill, a school teacher, said small increases in teachers' salaries were more than met by higher rents and costs of necessities.

The Rev. James Beebe declared that the new era of women is the cause of profiteering. "How many of you women," he asked, "would be willing to have lower living costs at the expense of giving up some of the conveniences and freedom you enjoy in this modern age?"

PRIVATE DISTILLERY EXPLODES IN HOME

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Portland, Ore., Jan. 6.—Explosion of an alleged still in the basement of the home of S. H. Williams, according to the police, caused Williams to lose his liberty, his home, his whiskey, several inches of skin on his face and hands, and the greater amount of his hair.
The police believe a small coal oil lamp set near the mash to hasten fermentation ignited the mixture and started a fire which destroyed the place and burned Williams severely. Williams admitted he was running the still, but denied it was the cause of the fire, the police said.

STATE CLOSES IN TRIAL OF NEW FOR DEATH OF WOMAN

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Law, Ariz., Jan. 6.—Except for expert testimony, the state closed its case in rebuttal late today in the trial here of Harry New, alleged murderer of his fiancée, Freda Lesser. Among the witnesses called by the prosecution was Mrs. Alice Lesser, mother of the dead girl, who expressed the opinion New was sane.

LeCompte Davis, leading defense counsel, joined with prosecution attorneys in predicting that arguments would be begun by Thursday morning at the latest. The jury probably will receive the case late Friday, attorneys declared.

Adjournment was taken earlier than usual when Superior Judge Gavin W. Craig, presiding over the trial, pronounced a ruling adverse to the prosecution on a point of procedure.

The ruling required the prosecution to frame a new hypothetical question for submission to the jury. It had called.

Mr. Woolwine announced his hypothetical question would be more than half as long as that asked defense attorneys, probably not of more than 500 words, half the number in the defense hypothetical question.

In qualifying Dr. Charles L. Allen as an alienist, Mr. Woolwine brought out that the witness had been connected with the administration of New Jersey state asylum at Trenton for some years and also had been a member of the faculty of the University of Southern California.

The last lay witness called by the prosecution was considered the most important by attorneys for the state. He was M. W. Moss, of Glendale, a suburb. This witness testified that a few days before Miss Lesser was killed July 5 last, New asked him "what would you do if you had gotten a girl into trouble?" Moss said he told New he did not feel he could give any advice that would be of value.

The theory of the prosecution is that New killed Miss Lesser after he had refused to marry her, when she refused to have an illegal operation performed on her.

Other witnesses of the prosecution non-expert witnesses, about a dozen in number, included newspaper men and jail attendants. They all expressed the opinion New was sane.

Woolwine and Davis engaged in a heated altercation. Davis, cross-examining Sven Wilson, assistant county jailer, who had related several alleged actions of New in support of the theory the accused is sane, asked him if it was not true he had told Bartlett Harvey, a defense witness, he could have obtained a parole if he had testified for the state. Harvey is a trustee in the county jail. Wilson denied having made such a statement and Woolwine denounced Davis for asking such a question saying it was an insinuation against him.

Mrs. Lesser appeared in black and white and was supported by crutches. She wept and screamed as she entered the court room but mastered her feelings sufficiently to be able to testify. She said New always had appeared a sane, normal man and one who would have made Miss Lesser a good husband.

"If I hadn't thought Harry was a fine man and absolutely sane, I never had let Freda go with him," said Mrs. Lesser.

There was no cross examination. New maintained his almost motionless attitude during the time Mrs. Lesser was in the court room. He stared blankly ahead of him without a sign that he saw her entry or heard her words.

NEGRO KILLED ON PRINCIPAL STREET OF PITTSBURGH

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 6.—Scores of persons traveling down town Fifth avenue tonight witnessed the killing of Albert Price, a negro, who was shot to death by E. M. Price, a former captain in the regular army. Price came to Pittsburgh four months ago from Salt Lake City.

The murder occurred at the front entrance of a prominent hotel in which Loving was employed as a bell boy. Officials of the hotel informed police that Price and Loving had argued in the lobby shortly before the killing. Price left the hotel, followed by Loving, who, according to witnesses, struck the former. Price, it is said, then drew a revolver and shot the negro.

Price was arrested and he told the police that he had been discharged from the army on account of disability, four months ago. While in the service Price said he was stationed at a camp for prisoners at Salt Lake City. He has been attending the division of petroleum in the University of Pittsburgh here for several months. Price refused to discuss the killing.

BIG CAMPAIGN TO SAVE SINNERS IS TO BEGIN SHORTLY

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Atlantic City, N. J., Jan. 6.—Plans for the greatest world evangelistic campaign ever attempted were agreed upon at a preliminary meeting of the first post-bellum conference of the inter-church world movement today. Representatives of boards of home missions of nearly a score of Protestant denominations attended.

A great drive for converts will be carried forward by 200,000 pastors in every state in the union. The campaign is to be determined with marshaling of the hosts of recruits for Christianity in all churches of the country on Easter Sunday.

The inter-church effort to arouse the nation and stimulate Christian forces will be carried forward coincidentally with the independent campaign of the Methodist Episcopal church which has for its slogan, "One million new members by June 1."

Spectacular evangelistic methods are not to be encouraged in connection with the drive, home mission directors decided today.

"There is at this time no understanding that the funds raised or to be raised shall be applied through the organization to raising the prohibition issue abroad," said a statement by Rev. S. Earl Taylor, general secretary. "It has no connection with prohibition."

Under the plan 500 new shares of stock will be sold at $210 a share. The original intention was to increase the capital of the bank to $600,000, according to an announcement made shortly before the institution re-opened.
